

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. An identification tag provided with a random pattern readable with an image sensor, said identification tag comprising;
5 at least a pair of random pattern members generating moiré fringes forming said random pattern, being disposed three-dimensionally in a transparent medium.
2. The identification tag according to claim 1, wherein a transparent
10 synthetic resin is used as said transparent medium.
3. The identification tag according to claim 1 or claim 2, wherein said transparent medium is provided with a flow pattern.
- 15 4. The identification tag according to claim 1, wherein a net member is used as said random pattern member.
5. The identification tag according to claim 4, wherein fabric made of fiber is used as said net members.
20
6. The identification tag according to claim 1, wherein said identification tag is used for identification cards.